(b) Drama – Ray Lawler, *Summer of the Seventeenth Doll

Analyse how personalities and attitudes are conveyed by the use of distinctive voices in the texts you have studied.

In your response, make detailed reference to your prescribed text, including the dialogue extract provided below, and ONE other related text.

OLIVE: (in quick hostility, snapping off the radio) Now look, that's one thing I'm not gunna stand for. Right from the start!

PEARL: What?

OLIVE: You know what! That respectable mother stunt. Don't you try and put that over on me.

PEARL: I didn't say a word.

OLIVE: You said wrong, didn't yer? 'N' nasty mess? That's enough. I've told yer over 'n' over again what this lay-off is, yet every time you open your mouth you make it sound like something – low and dirty. Well, if that's the way you look at it, you don't have to stay, y'know – nobody's forcin' you to make any decisions about it – you can get your bags from the hall and clear out before they get here.

PEARL: (defensively) Just because I don't think it's altogether proper.

OLIVE: Yeah. Just because of that.

Analyse how personalities and attitudes are conveyed by the use of distinctive voices in the texts you have studied.

In your response, make detailed reference to your prescribed text, including the extract provided below, and ONE other related text.

‘See here, young man,’ said Mulga Bill, ‘from Walgett to the sea,
From Conroy’s Gap to Castlereagh, there’s none can ride like me.
I’m good all round at everything, as everybody knows,
Although I’m not the one to talk – I hate a man that blows.
But riding is my special gift, my chiefest, sole delight;
Just ask a wild duck can it swim, a wildcat can it fight.
There’s nothing clothed in hair or hide, or built of flesh or steel,
There’s nothing walks or jumps, or runs, on axle, hoof, or wheel,
But what I’ll sit, while hide will hold and girths and straps are tight:
I’ll ride this here two-wheeled concern right straight away at sight.’

(from Mulga Bill’s Bicycle)

The prescribed poems are:

- A B ‘Banjo’ Paterson, Banjo Paterson Collected Verse
  - * Clancy of the Overflow
  - * In Defence of the Bush

(e) Nonfiction – Speeches

Analyse how personalities and attitudes are conveyed by the use of distinctive voices in the texts you have studied.

In your response, make detailed reference to your prescribed text, including the extract provided below, and ONE other related text.

I'm only a child and I don't have all the solutions, but I want you to realise, neither do you!
You don't know how to fix the holes in our ozone layer.
You don't know how to bring salmon back up a dead stream.
You don't know how to bring back an animal now extinct.
And you can't bring back forests that once grew where there is now desert.
If you don't know how to fix it, please stop breaking it!

Here, you may be delegates of your governments, business people, organisers, reporters or politicians – but really you are mothers and fathers, brothers and sisters, aunts and uncles – and all of you are somebody's child.

(from Address to the Plenary Session, Earth Summit, 1992)

Plenary session address by Severn Cullis-Suzuki, age 12, to the United Nations Conference on Environment and Development, Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, June 11, 1992.

Question 2 — Elective 2: Distinctively Visual (20 marks)

(a) Prose Fiction – Henry Lawson, *The Penguin Henry Lawson Short Stories

Analyse how experiences and attitudes are conveyed by the use of distinctive images in the texts you have studied.

In your response, make detailed reference to your prescribed text, including the extract provided below, and ONE other related text.

The railway town consists of a public house and a general store, with a square tank and a schoolhouse on piles in the nearer distance. The tank stands at the end of the school and is not many times smaller than the building itself. It is safe to call the pub ‘The Railway Hotel’, and the store ‘The Railway Stores’, with an ‘s’. A couple of patient, ungroomed hacks are probably standing outside the pub, while their masters are inside having a drink – several drinks. Also it’s safe to draw a sundowner sitting listlessly on a bench on the verandah, reading The Bulletin.

(from In a Dry Season)

The prescribed stories are:

- Henry Lawson, The Penguin Henry Lawson Short Stories
  - * The Drover’s Wife

Analyse how experiences and attitudes are conveyed by the use of distinctive images in the texts you have studied.

In your response, make detailed reference to your prescribed text, including the extract provided below, and ONE other related text.

No-one warned them about the wind. Sometimes on the coast it can bluster for weeks at a time, but this year is worse than any Gil can remember. The surrounding grass, faded to a mustard colour, turns orange at the tips from wind-burn. Even the trees begin to get a crisp look; their canopy is brittle and the undergrowth dried to a tinder. On her walks Anna can see that the grasslands are eaten down to bare stubble and grey sandy soil, while the great fortified homestead hovers like a mirage on a plain of shimmering straw.
