Home schooling support groups and networks

There are many support groups, associations and networks set up to support home schooling parents. Typically, these groups provide advice and materials relating to different approaches, how to start, ways to plan and keep records and other tips that parents have found to be successful.

The following list identifies some of the larger groups and provides contact details that are current at the time of publication.

- Home Education Australia (HEA)
- Sydney Home Education Network (SHEN)
- Australian Christian Home Schooling (ACHS)
- Muslim Home Education Network Australia
  http://muslimhomeschool.net
- Homeschooling Downunder
  https://www.homeschoolingdownunder.com/
- Home School Australia
- Aussie Educator

Important notes:

- NESA does not promote or endorse any particular group or organisation.
- Some groups may charge fees to join or access materials.
- Any arrangements between a parent and a group or organisation are between the parties involved.
- From time to time, details of a group may change. NESA will publish such changes if advised of the new details.